

INDEX TO QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

CHAPTER 1 MENTAL HEALTH, MENTAL ILLNESS, AND MENTAL DISABILITIES

1.1	A note about terminology: Mental illness and mental disability....	1
1.2	What is mental health?.....	3
1.3	What is mental illness?.....	3
1.4	What is the continuum of mental health? Why is it important?...	5
1.5	What is the difference between stress and distress?.....	6
1.6	Where is the dividing line between temporary distress and mental illness?.....	7
1.7	What causes mental illness?	8
1.8	How is a diagnosis of mental illness made?	11
1.9	What expertise do different mental health professionals have (e.g. psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers, employee assistance program counsellors)?	13
1.10	What mental illnesses or disabilities are most commonly encountered in the workplace?.....	13
1.10.1	Depression.....	13
1.10.2	Anxiety disorders	15
1.10.3	Obsessive-compulsive disorder (OCD).....	17
1.10.4	Post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD)	18
1.10.5	Bipolar disorder	20
1.10.6	Substance use disorders.....	21
1.10.7	Concurrent disorders	25
1.11	What other types of mental illnesses or disabilities should workplace parties be aware of?	26
1.11.1	Personality disorders	26
1.11.2	Autism spectrum disorder (ASD).....	27
1.11.3	Attention-deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD).....	29

1.11.4	Learning disabilities	30
1.11.5	Dementia	31
1.12	What functional limitations are associated with mental illnesses or disabilities?	33
1.13	How do mental illnesses or disabilities affect an employee's choice or control over conduct in the workplace?....	34
1.14	What are some commonly held misconceptions about mental illness and mental health disabilities?	35
1.14.1	Misconception #1: Mental illnesses are rare	35
1.14.2	Misconception #2: People with a mental illness pose a greater risk of violence to others than those without a mental illness	36
1.14.3	Misconception #3: Mental illnesses cause very little disruption in the workplace	37
1.14.4	Misconception #4: Treatments for mental illnesses are ineffective.....	38
1.14.5	Misconception #5: There is little that non-professionals can do to help people with mental illnesses and addictions.....	39
1.15	What is stigma?.....	40
1.15.1	Structural stigma	41
1.15.2	Public (social) stigma	42
1.15.3	Self-stigma	42
1.16	How does the stigma attached to mental illnesses or disabilities affect the workplace?	43
1.17	What can employers and unions do to combat stigma?.....	44

CHAPTER 2 THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE WORKPLACE AND MENTAL HEALTH

2.1	What is the relationship between the workplace and mental health? How does workplace stress affect mental health?	45
-----	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----

2.2	What workplace practices promote mental well-being?	47
2.2.1	What is the role of the National Standard of Canada for Psychological Health and Safety in the Workplace in promoting mental wellness?	49
2.3	What should workplace parties do to create an organizational culture of accessibility and accommodation?....	51
2.4	Can an employer’s failure to provide a workplace conducive to mental health and wellness result in legal liability?	55

CHAPTER 3 TRAUMA AND TRAUMA-INFORMED WORKPLACE PRACTICES

3.1	How has our understanding of trauma evolved over the years?	59
3.2	What is a trauma?	60
3.3	What is the prevalence of trauma effects in the general population?	61
3.4	What are the effects of trauma on mental health?	64
3.5	What are the impacts of trauma on memory?.....	66
3.6	What is secondary traumatic stress?.....	68
3.7	What is a trauma-informed approach and how does it apply in the workplace?	70
3.8	What is involved in developing a trauma-informed approach? ...	71
3.9	What general principles apply when developing a trauma-informed workplace?	72
3.10	What are the essential elements of a trauma-informed investigation?	74

CHAPTER 4 RECOGNIZING SIGNS, MAKING APPROPRIATE INQUIRIES

4.1	What workplace behaviours suggest that someone might be mentally ill or have a mental health disability?	77
-----	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----

4.2	When do employers or union representatives have a duty to ask employees if they require accommodation because of a mental health disability?.....	79
4.3	When will a union need to inquire into an employee’s mental health in order to meet its duty of fair representation?	82
4.4	How, where, and when should an employer, supervisor, or union representative ask someone who appears to have a mental health disability if support and/or accommodation is needed?	84
4.4.1	Background considerations.....	84
4.4.2	Timing.....	85
4.4.3	Who is best suited to have such conversations?	86
4.4.4	Principles to guide the discussion.....	87
4.4.5	Practical tips for talking to/helping a person in distress.....	88
4.4.6	Discriminatory inquiries.....	90
4.5	How should managers and union representatives engage with someone who is reluctant to discuss a possible mental illness or disability?	91
4.6	What does recovery from a mental illness entail?	92
4.7	What should be done in the workplace to help someone through the recovery process?	94

CHAPTER 5 DISABILITY DISCRIMINATION, THE DUTY TO ACCOMMODATE, AND BONA FIDE OCCUPATIONAL REQUIREMENTS

5.1	What elements must be proven to establish discrimination?.....	97
5.2	Must someone have a diagnosis of a recognized mental illness in order to be considered a person with a disability attracting the protection of human rights legislation?.....	98
5.2.1	Is “stress” a disability giving rise to the duty to accommodate?	100

5.3	What are the legal obligations of employers, employees, and unions in the accommodation process?	101
5.3.1	The employer's duty	101
5.3.2	The employee's duty.....	103
5.3.3	The union's duty.....	104
5.4	Which elements of a job are bona fide occupational requirements (BFORs)?	105
5.5	How might a mental health or addiction disability interfere with an employee's ability to fully meet obligations arising from the accommodation process?	106
5.6	What happens if an employee denies having a disability in the course of the accommodation process? Can the employee be disciplined or discharged for attendance or performance problems in these circumstances?	107
5.7	What measures or practices should be in place at an organizational level to ensure successful accommodation planning and implementation?	108
5.8	What general principles apply to the development of an accommodation plan?	109
5.8.1	What information is required to develop an accommodation plan?	110
5.9	What constitutes a reasonable accommodation?.....	110
5.10	What types of accommodation could enable an employee with a mental health disability to remain at work?	115
5.10.1	Should employers alter performance or attendance standards?	120
5.10.2	What accommodations should a union consider when assisting a bargaining unit employee with a mental health disability?.....	120
5.11	When should an employee take a leave of absence rather than continue working with accommodations?	121
5.11.1	Who makes the decision about taking a leave of absence – the employee or the employer?	122

5.12	How should the employer and union communicate with an employee who is on sick leave? What role should the employee's wishes play in the nature and frequency of contact?	122
5.12.1	Where is the line to be drawn between legitimate communication and harassment?.....	123
5.13	When is it appropriate for an employee to attempt a return to work? Is a gradual return to work always advisable?.....	124
5.14	What are the key components of a return-to-work plan? How should such plans be drafted?	127
5.14.1	What measures should be taken to prevent relapse – and address them if they do occur?.....	129
5.14.2	What steps should be followed for reviewing an accommodation plan?	130
5.15	What return-to-work obligations are imposed on employers under workers' compensation legislation?.....	130

CHAPTER 6 UNDUE HARDSHIP AND THE LIMITS OF ACCOMMODATION

6.1	When will accommodating an employee with a mental health disability constitute undue hardship?	133
6.1.1	The essential factors	134
6.1.2	Cost and outside sources of funding	135
6.1.3	Health and safety	136
6.1.4	Significant interference with the rights of other employees.....	139
6.1.5	Other limits on the duty to accommodate.....	140
6.1.6	Does it amount to undue hardship to continue accommodating an employee who experiences multiple relapses of a substance use disorder or other condition?	149
6.2	Is it discriminatory to discipline or dismiss an employee for misconduct that is related to a mental health disability? What nexus or link must be established between the disability and the misconduct?..... 151

6.3 Are “last chance agreements” appropriate tools for managing the conduct of employees with mental health disabilities? 158

6.3.1 In what circumstances will LCAs be upheld if challenged at arbitration or before a human rights tribunal? 159

6.4 What inquiries must an employer make prior to dismissing an employee with a mental health disability on the basis that the employee is unable to meet the essential requirements of the job and that further accommodation would constitute undue hardship? 160

6.4.1 Are there other factors that may preclude an employer from dismissing an employee on the basis that further accommodation will not enable the employee to carry out the essential duties of the position? 161

CHAPTER 7 PRIVACY AND MEDICAL INFORMATION

7.1 What medical information can employers request to justify a leave of absence, support the accommodation process, or initiate a return to work?..... 163

7.1.1 Leaves of absence 163

7.1.2 Accommodation..... 166

7.1.3 Return to work 168

7.2 Is an employee’s consent always needed to communicate with treating healthcare professionals? What happens if an employee refuses to consent? 169

7.3 What privacy concerns are raised by the provision of medical information related to mental health disabilities? How should workplace parties address those concerns? 170

7.4 Is medical information related to mental health disabilities unreliable because it is based largely on self-reporting?..... 171

7.5	When is it appropriate to require employees to provide medical information to prove they are fit for duty or do not pose a health and safety risk?	173
7.6	When is it appropriate for an employer to ask for an independent medical examination (IME)?	174
7.6.1	Might IMEs aggravate certain mental health disabilities?	180
7.7	Once medical information has been obtained, what measures should be put in place to ensure privacy?.....	180
7.8	Can information relating to an employee’s mental health disability be shared without the employee’s express consent?	183
7.8.1	Implied consent	184
7.8.2	Authorization by a court, tribunal, or arbitrator	184
7.8.3	Emergencies.....	185
7.8.4	Consequences of a breach of confidentiality.....	185
7.8.5	Does the mere communication of the fact that an employee has a disability and medical limitations constitute a sharing of personal information that may engage privacy protections?....	186
7.9	How can employers and unions address questions or concerns raised by co-workers about an accommodated employee without violating the employee’s privacy?	186

CHAPTER 8 MANAGING CRISES IN THE WORKPLACE: EFFECTIVE PLANNING AND RESPONSE

8.1	What is a crisis?	187
8.2	What steps should workplace parties take to address a crisis?	188
8.3	What is verbal de-escalation?	193
8.3.1	What are some of the strategies used in de-escalation?	193
8.4	What should be done to protect the health of workers who experience crises or traumatic events at work?.....	196

8.5	What is Psychological First Aid?	196
8.6	What should be done to support an employee who is experiencing a panic attack?	198
8.7	What should be done to support an employee who may be suicidal?.....	201
8.7.1	What are the risks of suicidal behaviours in people with mental health disabilities?	201
8.7.2	What are the signs that someone may be suicidal?...	202
8.7.3	What should managers, union representatives, and co-workers do to assist someone whom they believe may be suicidal?	203
8.8	What should be done if an employee engages in self-harming behaviour?.....	204
8.8.1	What is self-harming behaviour?.....	204
8.8.2	Is self-harming behaviour a mental health emergency or crisis?	206
8.8.3	How should managers, union representatives, and co-workers speak with someone who is showing signs of self-harming?	206
8.8.4	Should other employees be concerned for their own safety if a co-worker engages in self-harming behaviour?.....	207
8.9	What behaviours suggest that a person is out of touch with reality? That a person is intoxicated? What is the appropriate response from a supervisor or manager?	207
8.10	Violence in the workplace: What are its causes? What are its effects?	209
8.10.1	What is workplace violence?.....	209
8.10.2	Are certain occupations at a higher risk of workplace violence?.....	209
8.10.3	How frequent is workplace violence?	210
8.10.4	What are the impacts of workplace violence on mental health?.....	210

8.11	What are the obligations of employers and unions in preventing workplace violence?	212
8.12	What are the warning signs that an employee may engage in violence?.....	214
8.13	How should workplace parties respond when an employee’s words or actions raise a concern about potential violence?	216

CHAPTER 9 TRAUMA-INFORMED INTERVIEWING: A PRACTICAL GUIDE FOR WORKPLACE INVESTIGATORS

9.1	What are the core skills needed to conduct a trauma-informed interview?	217
9.2	What should be done to prepare for the interview?.....	217
9.3	What should be communicated in the introduction to the interview?	219
9.4	How should the interview questions be structured?	220
9.5	How can a trust-centred connection be established?	221
9.6	What is the role of active listening skills in building rapport? ...	222
9.7	How should the interviewer respond to emotional disruption during the interview?	222
9.8	What is the Window of Tolerance?	223
9.9	What is the most effective way to conclude the interview?	224